CONCERTED MOVEMENT OF THE JAPS

Four Large Armies Reported Advancing to Converge on the Railway
Probably at Harbin.

ANOTHER LARGE FORCE LANDED AT CHEMULPO.

Japanese Forces Followed up the Successes at Cheng Ju and Kisan by Steady Advances Toward the Yalu. Further Details of the First Engagements on Land.

Important Engagement Near Kasan.

Paris, April 2.—It is said that the Russian forces in the engagement near Kasan on March 27th, numbered 1,000 Cossacks, and that the forces of the Japanese consisted of about 1,100 infantry and 1,300 cavalry.

Japs' Hold the Road to Peking.

Tokio, April 3.—The advance guard of the Japanese army in north-western Korea occupied the town of Seng Cheng yesterday without opposition. Seng Cheng is on the Peking road, thirteen miles west of Chien Ju and about forty miles west of Wiju.

When the Japs drove the Russians out of Cheng Ju last Monday the Russians withdrew in two columns, one going over the Kouksan road and the other over the Peking road.

Another Force Landed at Chemulpo.

Seoul, April 3.—Five Japanese transports carrying light artillery, cavalry and infantry, have arrived at Chemulpo.

The men are en-training for Seoul.
General Horagushi, the newly appointed commander of the Japanese forces here, has arrived.

Skirmishes Along the Line of Advance.

Seoul, April 3.—The Japanese troops advancing toward the Yalu river have had another action, repulsing the Russians smartly, over a score of Japanese being wounded.

In connection with the engagement at Cheng Ju in North Korea, on March 28th, much fighting occurred in the town itself, which is a big, walled place.

It is asserted here that forty Russians were killed and wounded and that a number were captured. The Japanese losses are given as 30.

Twenty of the troops wounded in a skirmish at Kisan on March 26, embarked on Thursday upon the hospital ship Kosa Maru.

They are doing well.

The Russian losses on that occasion were estimated at fifty. It is reported in the same connection that in another skirmish 30 men were cut off and captured.

Reported Movement Against Vladivostok.

Paris, April 2.—The Journal says it is rumored that a large Japanese force has landed at the mouth of the Tumen river, one hundred miles southwest of Vladivostok, at the northeast extremity of Korea.

Concerted Movement on Harbin.

Shanghai, April 4.—It is creditably reported here that the Japanese are operating in an irregular lozenge shaped area whose corners extended to Antung, New Chwang, Kirino and Vladivostok.

One force of 105,000 troops has been landed opposite Takushan in Southern Manchuria, and is marching north and northwest. Another army of 10,000 men landed in Northwestern Korea, is marching toward the Yalu river. A third force of unknown number disembarked in Northeast Korea and is marching to the west.

It is supposed another force will attack New Chwang from the south-west and news of an engagement is daily expected.

The Yalu is thawing and the Russians are slowly retiring northward. Good authorities here estimate that the total Russian force in Manchuria is 200,000 men, but this is probably an excessive statement.

With Military Honors.

Port Arthur, April 2.—All is quiet here and there is no change in the situation. The weather is warmer, and the sick and wounded are making good progress towards recovery.

The Japanese who were killed in the last attack upon this place were buried this morning in the Chinese cemetery, outside the town, with military honors. It is hoped it will be possible to raise the Japanese fire-ships which were sunk in the attempt to block the harbor.

Japanese Follow up Their Success.

London, April 2.—According to a dispatch from Seoul, the Japanese have allowed the bullion pack train en route from Ninyan to Amser, the American mining concession north of the Anju river, to proceed after considerable delay. This indicates that the Japanese success at Cheng Ju on March 28th, was so complete as to allow them to make considerable advance, and further that the Russians are falling back beyond the Yalu river.

RIDEAU HALL

SUFFERS FROM FIRE.

The Residence of the Governor General Damaged to the Extent of $10,000.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Ottawa, April 4.—The east wing of Rideau Hall, which has been the seat of the Governor General since Confederation, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Fire was discovered shortly after five by one of the servants who gave the alarm, and the occupants fled in their night clothes, while Lady Minto was removed on a stretcher to a place of safety.

Several narrow escapes are recorded and several escapes by fire ladders. It was to carpets and furniture that most of the damage was done. The fire was practically confined to the new wing built to the south-west corner of Rideau Hall in 1900, which cost between $15,000 and $16,000. It was of two stories.

The loss will exceed $10,000.

THE TELEGRAM'S RAILWAY POLICY.

With a persistence, which in almost any other case would be a proof of sincerity, the Winnipeg Telegram attempts to create the impression in the West, that its friends the Conservative opposition in parliament, are pledged to a policy of western railway building. It speaks of "an alternative railway proposition," which it declares will give the West additional railway communication more quickly than will the carrying out of the government's transcontinental plan, while the Conservative press and party in the East are deriding the project of a Transcontinental railway, and pointing out that the millions which it will cost might better be spent in improving the harbor, canal, and rivers of Eastern Canada. The Telegram, bravely and with perfect confidence in the gullibility of its readers, announces that the objection of its party to the government's policy is because it does not build the West's additional railway communication quickly enough.

While it is not likely that anyone who does not wish to be deceived will be misled by the Telegram's statements, it will be no harm to show just what their basis is, and how very opposite they are to the facts. The Telegram makes its arguments as to the policy of the Conservative party, on the suggestion of an alternative Transcontinental railway scheme incorporated by Mr. Borden, leader of the opposition, in his speech in criticism of the government's policy. He stated what might be done but did not commit either himself or his party to the doing of it, nor has he been supported by any section of his party or its press, in his suggestion. No one was committed to anything by Mr. Borden's suggestion of possibility, and nothing could be further from the fact than that by the transfer of power from the Liberal to the Conservative party, an earlier construction of a competitive railway would be secured. The Telegram stands in magnificent isolation amongst the Conservative press in championing such an absurdity. The essential difference between the railway policies of the government and opposition at the present time is that while the Liberal party stands by its two years' policy of C. P. R. monopoly, traditional policy of competition, and with a measure which, it is universally admitted, will be most effective, it is true, Mr. Borden's suggestion involves the building of a new line of railway from Winnipeg to Edmonton, but it is also true that the conditions as to its location and connections would still leave the C. P. R. in its absolute possession of its present field as it is today. In regard to this portion of his proposition, he accepts unreservedly the government's plan of aid. He did not suggest government ownership, and he specifically declared aid should be subject to the condition that the proposed line should pass north and not south of the projected Canadian Northern. From its entry into the Territories to Edmonton, the Canadian Northern will be from one hundred to two hundred miles north of the C. P. R. Between the two lines there is not only room for settlement, but there are now large settlements, while north of the Canadian Northern line and branches as proposed, there is as yet little or no settlement beyond easy reach of the proposed Canadian. Mr. Borden's proposal, then, would place the new line where it would be of no service to existing settlements, in a region in which all the traffic would have to be created, and where it could not under any circumstances compete in any way with the pet of the Conservative party, the C. P. R.

From Edmonton west to the coast, he would not aid the Grand Trunk as the government proposes, nor would he aid the Canadian Northern to build a separate line. He asks no urgency for the construction of a line to the coast, and unless and until the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific would consent to construct and operate jointly a single line, construction to the coast might wait. Considering that the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific are and must necessarily be, active opposition to each other, the requirement that they must jointly construct a road to the coast would mean the postponement of the construction for all eternity; again leaving his friends of the C. P. R. in sole and absolute possession of the field. Let the people of the Territories contrast this with even the government's amended proposal to have a line in operation from Winnipeg to the coast in seven years, leaving the Canadian Northern independent and with a prospect of having still another and competing line to the coast, and even if Mr. Borden's proposition were assented to by a change of government, that would be ample reason for the people of the west to oppose such a scheme.

But it is not in his suggestion as to the western section that Mr. Borden shows his strongest desire to rivet C. P. R. monopoly still more firmly upon Canada. It is against the government's proposal to build a government road from Winnipeg to the Atlantic, that his party and its press, including the Telegram, are most violently opposed. He would not build a new line to open up the back country of Northern Ontario. He would rather buy out the present line of the C. P. R. and the Canadian Northern from Fort William to Winnipeg, and then permit the running of trains by both the C. P. R. and the Grand Trunk over these lines. To understand the enormity of this proposition, it would be necessary to travel over the C. P. R. line from Fort William to North Bay, and particularly that part of the line which skirts along the shore of Lake Superior. The expense of construction of this part of the line was the heaviest of any part of the whole road. Owing to the nature of the rocks and their ruggedness, in order to maintain the road to some degree the grades are heavy and the curves difficult, so that under no circumstances can it be made a first-class road. Whatever it may have cost, it is now capitalized at $84,000 per mile, and this the government would have to pay at least, in order to become owners of the road as it exists at present. It is unquestioned that the government's proposal of a road running through the back country with less than half per cent gradients and no curves, can be completed for not more than $35,000 a mile. When Mr. Borden's suggestion has been acted upon, when the country has paid some $35,000,000 for the C. P. R. from North Bay to Winnipeg, the country has not now one mile more of railway, or one bushel greater capacity for the carriage of grain, than it had before. The C. P. R. would have the money and the country would practically have nothing that its trade has not now the use of. By the government's proposal, for half the money, the country gets its railway accommodation doubled and a thousand miles of new country opened up.

But it is not merely in the money payment to the C. P. R. that the advantage to that company is to be given under Mr. Borden's suggestion. It stands to reason that if the Grand

FLOUR

For the thousands. At last, after a long delay in transit we have received Ten Carloads, or 6,200 Bags of Flour, and still more to follow. The hands are—

Hungarian, Strong Bakers and Assinibola

Everybody is welcome to a share of it, and on account of the scarcity of money we will make it as easy as possible. We will sell, for a short time only, Strong Baker at $2.65 per bag. It is certainly below the present market value, but our loss is your gain. Take advantage of it, delay means higher price.

Groceries

Now, anything in Groceries. We have fine lines, nice and fresh goods just in. Jams, Jellies, Preserves, Fruits, Vegetables, Pickles, Domestic or imported.

Biscuits

Huntley and Palmer's, Christie and Brown fifty and one kind. Reception Biscuits for one. Chocolates and Bonbons.

Try our Old English Breakfast Tea, it makes a friend every time.

Are you fond of a good Cup of Coffee. We will blend a pound for you and grind it while you wait.

Ham and Eggs go nicely at this time of the year. We have Swift Hams and Bacon, new laid eggs and Butter coming in daily from the country.

Bring us your Easter order and we will attend to it to your best satisfaction.

THE TELEGRAM'S RAILWAY POLICY

Trunk must run over what are now C. P. R. lines to reach its Western connection, it has not the same advantage as if it ran over its own lines, as proposed by the government, and especially when over its own proposed lines it would have the advantage of lighter gradients, lower fixed charges, and therefore a much more cheaply operated road. No matter how many lines of railway we have in the Northwest, if the C. P. R. remains the only outlet to the east, we have only partial competition under the most favorable conditions, with the almost absolute certainty that at some time in the future, sooner or later, the road which has the Eastern monopoly will eliminate even that measure of competition by absorbing the minor roads. We can have effective competition in the west by securing effective through competition to the east, such as the government's proposal will provide, and such as Mr. Borden's suggestion would prevent. Even if a proposal more favorable than that of the government were made for railway communication to the West, unless accompanied by provisions for effective competition to the east it would still be of little value, and would not give the Northwest the relief from rail-roads which it needs. For twenty years, without which it cannot expand as nature and the energies of its people permit, and as the government's Transcontinental railway proposal thoroughly provides for, at no special cost to the West.

The eastern section of the Government's Transcontinental railway scheme is even more immediately important to the West than the Western section. It is a comparatively easy matter to get a new line built over the prairies, but a competing line from the prairies to the sea can only be secured as a matter of government policy and from a government, whose policy is ever and always, competition.

EDISON.

There have been no Edison notes during the past three weeks, the writer having been in the bush the greater part of that time.

The sawmill in the dry timber has shut down, having cut all logs hauled to the mill.

Many of the settlers here are busy taking out building logs.

Ed. Wilson arrived here from Edmonton about two weeks ago, bringing his two sisters with him. The Misses Wilson have lately come out from Wiltshire, England, and, we are glad to say, are delighted with the country here.

There was a very fine dance at Mr. Boston's on the 17th (St. Patrick's Day), about seventy people being present. Everybody seemed to enjoy themselves and dancing was kept up until six o'clock the next morning.

The snow is very deep in this district and roads are liable to be very bad for some time in the spring.

There will be a public meeting here on Saturday, April 2nd, for the purpose of considering the advisability of forming a Rifle Club in this district. It is hoped that there will be a record attendance.

Mr. Hugh Kaut's son, Jack, has arrived in Edmonton with his sister. They have come from Buffalo, N. Y., direct.

The weather here at present is superb and we trust that it has come to stay.

EASTER SERVICES.

At the Presbyterian church yesterday Rev. D. G. McQueen occupied the pulpit morning and evening. The phrases of discourse were appropriate to the occasion and the special music rendered by the choir was much appreciated by the large congregations present. At the evening service Miss Ethel Webster sang "There is a Green Hill" in splendid form, and Misses Webster and Cameron and Messrs. Potter and Heatheide sang "Rock of Ages".

Rev. C. H. Hoggan preached to large congregations morning and evening in McDougall Methodist church. The subject of the morning sermon was the Resurrection, and in the evening the moral and religious training of children was discussed. The choir sang appropriate anthems at each service and in the evening solos were sung by Mrs. Green and Dr. Nicholls.

In All Saints' church Holy Communion was celebrated at 8.30 and 11 a.m. In the afternoon a special children's service was conducted by the pastor, and the evening service, consisting of sermon and evensong, was held at 7.30. All the services were well attended.

At the Baptist church last evening Pastor McDonald completed a series of discourses on "Men Who Failed," the theme for the final sermon being "Felix or Tomorrow Will Do It." The church was filled to the doors and the hymns and anthems were appropriate to the day.

On reading the report that a Russian newspaper urged the changing of the name of Port Arthur, a citizen who had been reading the war reports for the past week, suggested that the change should be extended to the entire peninsula, pointing out that it required only a trifling alteration to transform Lido Tung to Lido's Tongue, which he considered more appropriate.

J. E. Auten came in on Friday from North Bend, Nebraska. Friday's train brought about fifty land seekers, who got off at various stations along the C. & N. R.

Mr. Auten, with his son, who has been in the district some two years, has procured a large tract of land along the Sturgeon river and will make his home here in the future, being greatly pleased with the country and its prospects.

Reports from the north indicate that the snowfall has been phenomenal during the past winter. Traffic is almost impossible and travelling except with snowshoes is exceedingly difficult. In the coulees on Grand Prairie the snow is said to have been fifteen feet deep while on the neighboring hills the snow could feed with ease. The chinks during the season have been unusually violent.
